Henry Dormitzer, chairman of Operation Sail 1980, and a South Main Street resident, recently spoke before the Holbrook Historical Society. He is persuading countries to organize youth training courses on their tall ships and has already convinced Norway to take 35 American young people on its trip to America in 1980. More than 12 countries have agreed to send their magnificent sailing vessels to Boston for the birthday festivities.

Mrs. John Bleakie, director of the World Affairs Council, attended a luncheon to honor Ambassador Alfred Atherton Jr., who accepted the Christian A. Herter Memorial award from the Council. Mrs. Bleakie's parents, the Hollis Gleasons of Atlantic Avenue, David Place of Summer Street, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Benson of Forest Avenue and the John Keanes of Black Horse Lane enjoyed the chicken and rice luncheon.

Chambers - Hauprich

Wearing her mother's dress of ivory silk trimmed with her great grandmother's Belgian lace, Wendy Gaylord Chambers was married to John Whitaker Hauprich, July 28 at St. Stephen's Church in Cohasset Village. A garden reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride.

Miss Chambers is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Durno Chambers, Jr. of Cohasset. Mr. Hauprich is the son of Mrs. Charles S. Adams, Jr. of Camden, South Carolina and Mr. Leonard Hauprich of Orangeburg, South Carolina.

Hope H. Chambers, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Edwin Levering, IV, was best man. Bridesmaids were: Eleanor M. Chambers and Gaylord B. Chambers, both sisters of the bride, Susan K. Lary of Boston, Lisa J. Markarian of Belmont and Mary W. Levering of Baltimore. Ushers were Charles Bulterman, cousin of the bride from Darien, Conn., John D. Long from Philadelphia, Christopher Pistell from Baltimore, William G. Turner from LaPlata, Md., and John F. Shettle, Jr. from Baltimore.

The bridegroom attended Washington and Lee University and is employed by Eastern Aviation and Marine Underwriters in Towson, Md. His wife, a graduate of Simmons College in Boston, will join Maryland National Bank in September.

After a wedding trip to Magnetawan, Ontario, Mr. and Mrs. Hauprich will reside in Baltimore.
